Center for State Fiscal Reform

The forthcoming ALEC Center for State Fiscal Reform annual publication, State Tax Cut Roundup, reveals that policymakers from red and blue states advanced real tax relief during the 2015 legislative session. Before the third edition of the State Tax Cut Roundup goes live next week, ALEC members will receive an exclusive invitation to preview the report's findings with the authors during a pre-release conference call. For a sneak peak, examine the major trends and analyses in the State Tax Cut Roundup in nationally-renowned financial expert and philanthropist Rex Sinquefield's Forbes column here.

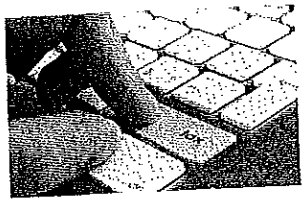

The ALEC Center for State Fiscal Reform is ready to help you make the case for pro-growth reforms in your state. Recently, the Center weighed in on important policy developments in Connecticut and Rhode Island, publishing editorials in prominent local media outlets. Furthermore, new ALEC Florida state co-chairman Representative Mike Hill partnered with the Center to host a very successful event in the Sunshine State. Please let Jonathan Williams, Vice President of the ALEC Center for State Fiscal Reform, know how ALEC can be helpful on fiscal issues in your state.

REGISTRATION IS NOW OPEN for the ALEC Spring Task Force Summit in Pittsburgh on May 6. Register today here.

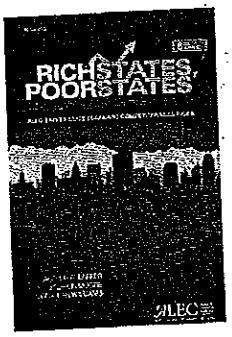

New ALEC Center for State Fiscal Reform research and commentary:

A Permanent Internet Tax Freedom Act

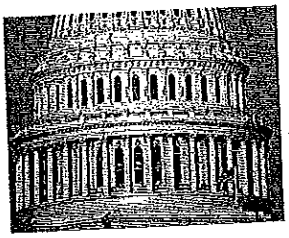

By an overwhelmingly bipartisan vote of 75-20, the U.S. Senate gave final passage to H.R. 644, the Trade Facilitation and Trade Enforcement Act - which includes a permanent extension of the Internet Tax Freedom Act. The passage is a great victory for millions of hardworking taxpayers across America. Read more here.

Red States v. Blue States, Rich States v. Poor States

A recent Gallup poll indicates that for the first time in the group's tracking history, a majority of American states lean red. The results found in Rich States, Poor States mesh well with the data that Gallup collected, and contribute to the ongoing discussion of the impact of state fiscal policy.

Confronting Tax Cronyism in the States

In the recently released chapter content of Rich States, Poor States, the authors take a look at the good, bad and ugly when it comes to confronting tax cronyism. Competitive tax rates with broad bases create a pathway to opportunity for all businesses, instead of just a favored few.

Jonathan Williams Talks Tax Reform on I-Spy Radio in Oregon

Jonathan Williams, Vice President of the ALEC Center for State Fiscal Reform, spoke with Dr. Mark Anderson on I Spy Radio in Oregon regarding the recently released full eighth edition of Rich States, Poor States: ALEC-Laffer State Economic Competitiveness Index. Jonathan and Mark discuss how pro-growth reforms, such as taxes with broad bases and competitive rates, create an environment for all businesses to compete and invest. Read more here.

State of the State-Illinois

Given the severity of Illinois' problems, now is the time for bold reform. In his State of the State address, Governor Rauner offered many ideas that, if enacted, would vastly improve Illinois' fiscal solvency and economic outlook. Read more here.

Center for State Fiscal Reform

The American Legislative Exchange Council (ALEC) Center for State Fiscal Reform continues to shape the policy discussion on pro-growth tax reform and fiscal responsibility across the states. It was a busy start to 2016. State Budget Solutions (SBS), a national leader on budget and public pension reform, joined ALEC as a project of the Center for State Fiscal Reform. The Center also recently released new analysis to the eighth edition of Rich States, Poor States: ALEC-Laffer State Economic Competitiveness Index. Finally, the Center launched a brand new nation-wide project, the 2016 State of the States.

The Center for State Fiscal Reform is happy to provide nonpartisan policy research and analysis, expert testimony and legislative briefings on tax and fiscal issues in your state. In 2015 alone, the Center partnered with legislative leaders, think tanks, taxpayer associations, grassroots organizations and the business community to host or participate in 73 events in 31 states and 46 cities across America. If you are interested in partnering together to host a briefing in your state during 2016, please contact the Center soon, as dates fill up quickly.

REGISTRATION IS NOW OPEN for the ALEC Spring Task Force Summit in Pittsburgh on May 6. Register today here.

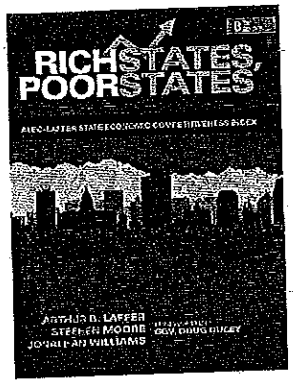

Share YOUR budget priorities with House Budget Committee Chairman Tom Price

Join the ALEC conference call to share with Rep. Tom Price (GA) your ideas on the federal budget.

Read more here.

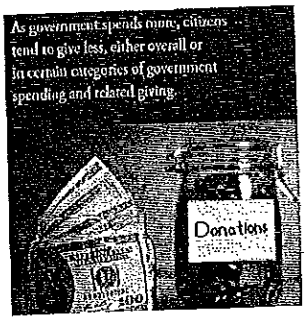

State of the States -- An Analysis of the Governors' Addresses

The newest ALEC Center for State Fiscal Reform project, "State of the States, 2016", is an analysis of tax and fiscal policy issues raised by America's governors in their 2016 State of the State addresses. Please check back frequently during the coming weeks to see how your state stacks up against others in your region and compared to national trends.

State Budget Solutions - State Budget Gimmicks of 2015

In 2015, some states attempted to fix budget gimmicks employed in the past, while others continued to kick the can down the road and compound problems for future lawmakers and citizens alike. Here are a few of the most popular gimmicks State Budget Solutions analyzed in 2015.

The Effect of State Taxes on Charitable Giving - Pro-Growth Tax Policy Encourages Generosity

This groundbreaking ALEC research finds that high taxes significantly reduce charitable giving across states, while lower taxes enhance charitable giving and provide more economic opportunity. Read more here.

Hey guys,

I'm looking forward to STFS in Pittsburg this week. I hope you are too. I just wanted to get a little house cleaning items done.
#1. If my LA, Nick Stallard does not already have your cell phone, please make sure he gets it. His cell is 330-421-2434. This is so he can keep you informed of dinner times and meeting places, any other events or be available to assist in any way. Try to get that to him sooner rather than later.
#2. You are on a Task Force. You must be present to sign the attendance roll for your task force to be reimbursed for the trip. This is very important, if you do not know your task force, let me know and I will get you the information. Please remember this is educational as well as fun. Please go to your task force meeting, but feel free to check out anything else going on as well.
#3. Hopefully you were able to get a room at the OMNI William Penn Hotel. If you were, they should have a master list of ALEC attendees. When you go to check out, make sure your room is charged directly to ALEC. (if you have added expenses such as room service, please pay for that yourself and submit for reimbursement). As far as the actual room goes, ALEC itself, not the scholarship fund, covers all task for members for the SPRING MEETING ONLY, so please make sure that they charge ALEC directly and not your card. If you have any issues with that, please call me or Nick right away.
#4. As always, other expenses, travel, registration fee, etc. are reimbursable. Please submit all your receipts to my office ASAP. I will process your request the same day we receive all your information. Sooner you get it to me, the sooner you get paid back. Please note, that if you are driving, I need a MAPQUEST of the shortest route from your starting point to the hotel that shows the mileage to be able to process mileage reimbursement.

I hope you all enjoy your experience this week in Pittsburg. I will be out there Thursday afternoon, around 2. If you have any questions or concerns, don't hesitate to contact me or Nick. Thanks

Health and Human Services

Dear friends,

The Spring Task Force Summit, which takes place in Pittsburgh on Friday, May 6, is almost here!

We are pleased to announce Iowa Representative Linda Miller will host the inaugural meeting of the Payment Reimbursement Reform Subcommittee. The Subcommittee will begin to review the advantages and disadvantages of alternative payment models states may choose to adopt, and will prepare to make recommendations on their findings to the Task Force in 2017.

At 2:00 PM, the Health and Human Services (HHS) Task Force will meet and discuss model policy in response to the opioid addiction/overdose crisis, and learn about other successful reform efforts happening around the country.

In addition, our Task Force lunch will feature scholars from The Mercatus Center at George Mason University. Be sure to stop by for lunch and a robust discussion of where to go from here in the debate on health care reform.

HHS Task Force Lunch
In his presentation, Mercatus senior fellow Brian Blase will address the following topics:

- The latest coverage effects of the Affordable Care Act
- The impact of Medicaid expansion on states

- Returning insurance market regulation to the states; changing the way we subsidize insurance
- Reforming traditional Medicaid program in order to better serve beneficiaries and taxpayers alike
- The importance of health care reform in the context of limiting government spending and regulation

You may access meeting materials for the Health and Human Services Task Force meeting here.

I look forward to seeing you in Pittsburgh! To register, just click here, or call our events team at 571.482.5026.

Sincerely,

Mia Heck

It's time we caught up, and the new ALEC Constituent Analytics and Research Exchange (ALEC CARE) is the great equalizer.

Please let us know – we are ready to travel to you and show you how to utilize all the tools for better communication with and insight into your community.

I've attached the promo documents for you to share with your colleagues.

Dear Representative Thompson,

Did you see this email yesterday? Ohio is one of our target states for this constituent info-gathering program and we'd love to show you what you'll be able to do.
Can we walk you through ALEC CARE on Friday? What time works best for you?

Safe travels,
Ashley

Subject: Are you ready to become an ALEC community organizer?

This week, ALEC will launch an exciting new program exclusively for members. It's called the ALEC Constituent Analytics and Research Exchange (ALEC CARE).

ALEC CARE is a constituent information-gathering system that helps you mobilize an army around issues rather than outrage. ALEC CARE helps members maintain real relationships with real people.

The Left has been community organizing for decades. It's time we caught up, and ALEC CARE is the great equalizer! We want to show you how this week in Pittsburgh. ALEC CARE will be offered to all ALEC members beginning in 2017, but we have identified beta states for this year -- and you are in one of them!

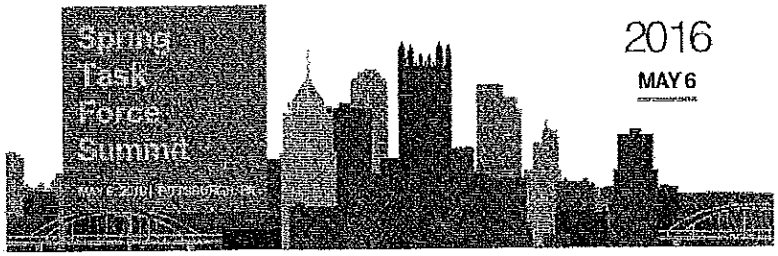

You'll be one of the first lawmakers in the country to take part in an exclusive, unified system for legislators to gather and store information for targeted, insightful and immediate reporting of constituent attitudes and policy positions.

Can we steal 15 minutes of your time during the Spring Task Force Summit to walk you through ALEC CARE? It's a little hard to explain in email, so we want to show it to you. We are scheduling demonstrations Thursday afternoon through Friday close of business. Please take a look at the attached PDF and don't hesitate to let us know if you have any questions.

Look forward to seeing you this week. I hope you'll take part in this game-changing system.

All the best,
Ashley
